

Subject: Public Wi-Fi Terms and Conditions

By connecting to Quest’s wireless Internet service, you are agreeing to these terms and related policies and are considered a “Guest” on Quest’s network.

Terms and Conditions:

- Use of the Guest access is governed by the Quest Wi-Fi Acceptable Use Policy (<https://questinc.org/wi-fi-policies>). It is the Guest’s responsibility to stay up to date of any changes to the Acceptable Use Policy.
- All users are expected to use Quest’s wireless access in a legal and responsible manner. Users should not violate federal, Florida or local laws, including the transmission or receiving of PHI (Personal health Information) or harmful material, fraud, or the downloading of copyrighted material.
- As with most public Wi-Fi, Quest’s Guest network is not secure. Any information being sent or received could be intercepted by another wireless user. Guests are forewarned that there is no expectation of privacy when using Quest’s Wi-Fi networks.
- Guests assume all associated risks and agree to hold harmless Quest, Inc. and its employees for any personal information that is compromised, or for any damage caused to users’ hardware or software due to electric surges, security issues, configuration or consequences caused by viruses or hacking. Quest is not responsible for any changes users make to their device settings and cannot guarantee that a user’s hardware will work with Quest’s network.
- Quest does not actively filter “Guest” access to the Internet. Any restriction or monitoring of a person deemed incompetent by a court of law or a minors’ access to Quest’s Wi-Fi network is the sole responsibility of the guest and/or their parent or guardian. Any content that may be considered offensive to others should be viewed with discretion and when possible in private.
- Quest reserves the right to restrict access to any device or person at its sole discretion.
- This agreement will remain in effect in perpetuity unless terminated by Quest, Inc., for any reason, regardless of the status between the signed party and Quest, Inc.
